SHELTON STATE MUSIC DEPARTMENT TO PRESENT THE MUSIC MAN

THE MUSIC MAN, traditionally one of America's favorite musicals, will be presented by the music department of Shelton State Community College on Thursday and Friday, April 29-30, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Skyland Boulevard Campus. Written by Meredith Wilson, the play will feature 35 members of the Shelton Singers and 15 children belonging to members of the college's faculty and staff.

Some of the main characters in the play are Harold Hill played by Wes Irvin; Marian Paroo played by Jennifer Junkin; Mrs. Paroo, Jennifer Rovenko; Winthrop Paroo, Garret See; Mayor Shinn, Michael Hall; Marcellus, Kelvin Hyche.

Glinda Blackshear will direct the performance. Choreographer is Ray Tayler and accompanists are Becki Stallsmith and Syble Coats.

Proceeds from the musical will help finance the Shelton Singers' participation in choral competition. Patron tickets are $25.00 with reserve seating available at the door or patrons may call 391-2344 to reserve seats. General admission is $5.00 and the cost for students/senior citizens tickets is $3.00 Tickets will be on sale from any member of the Shelton Singers, or they will be available at the door.

A traveling salesman and "con man," "Professor" Harold Hill comes to River City, Iowa on July 4, 1912, determined to charm the stubborn local folks with his plans for a boys' band. By the time the instruments and uniforms arrive, the townspeople have indeed been charmed- but so has Harold Hill, by Marian the Librarian and her little brother, Winthrop. The stage is set for a stirring rendition of " Minuet in G," played by the "think system" and conducted by a man who can't read a note of music!.

SUMMER WEIGHT LOSS CLINIC BEING OFFERED THROUGH CONTINUING ED

This summer the College will offer a summer weight loss clinic through the continuing education program . This class will be taught by Milady Murphy. The class will consist of nutrition, education and exercise segments. The aerobic exercise will be conducted in chairs. The program will run for five (5) weeks with limited enrollment. SECRETARY OF THE YEAR CHOSEN

Congratulations to Kim Davis! She was selected last week as Secretary of the Year by WLXY Radio Station. Kim's boss, Tommy Taylor, an Assistant dean of technical occupation services nominated his secretary for this award. She was selected for her professional duties as a secretary and for her dedication to the college. Among the many gifts she won was use of a cellular phone for a year, gift certificates, dinner for two at several restaurants and a Kelly girl to fill in for her for one day. Congratulations again Kim!

BREAKFAST FOR ADVISORY COMMITTEES

The Shelton State Foundation and the Fredd State Foundation will host a breakfast for the college's technical advisory committees on Wednesday, April 28, at 7 a.m. in the Fredd cafetorium. Members of the college's administration, technical faculty, and Foundation board members are invited.

SHELTON STATE STUDENT HAS SECOND SHORT STORY PUBLISHED

A student in Shelton State's Adult Studies program has had her second story published in a magazine, according to Ric Dice, director of the program at the college.

Aileen Henderson, a student in the creative writing class at Shelton State, recently had a second story published. Her children's story, "The Search for the Green Glass Bottle," appears in the April/May issue of CHILDREN'S DIGEST and is, in fact, the lead/cover story complete with color illustrations. Her first published story appeared last fall in the SOUTHERN REVIEW.

SHELTON STATE TO SPONSOR A CAREER CONFERENCE

The Fredd Campus of Shelton State Community College will sponsor a career conference on Thursday, April 29, from 8:30-10:30 a.m. in the college cafetorium. The school's career center, career alternatives program, and the cooperative education program at the college will host the event.

Approximately 14 representatives from business and industry will be available between 9-10:30 a.m. to talk with students. Registration for the career conference will be from 8:30-9 a.m.

For additional information on the conference, contact Samuel Merriweather, career center coordinator, Shirley Johnson, coordinator, career alternatives, or Charles Fields, director, cooperative education, at the Fredd Campus, 758-3361.

SCHOLARSHIPS BEING OFFERED FOR FREDD PROGRAMS FOR SUMMER

Shelton State Community College will offer 20 scholarships this summer to students interested in enrolling in certain programs on the Fredd Campus. The scholarships will be available in masonry, electricity, carpentry, and welding and will be awarded to students who are interested in pursuing careers in these areas. These will be full-time tuition scholarships for the Summer quarter only and will not include books.

The financial aid office on the Fredd campus will be available to assist students in applying for other financial aid to cover the remaining periods within their programs.

Registration for Summer quarter is June 7 and classes will begin on June 8. Fredd will remain on the quarter system for summer but will join the other Shelton State campuses by moving to the semester system this fall. For information on the scholarships or other programs offered on the Fredd campus, contact the college, 758-3361, ext. 16.

SHELTON TO SPONSOR GARAGE SALE AND SILENT AUCTION

A garage sale and treasure trove silent auction will be sponsored by the Spanish Club at Shelton State Community College in cooperation with the Shelton State Foundation on Saturday, May 1, beginning at 7 a.m. Proceeds from the garage sale and auction will benefit the Mabel Harries Endowed Spanish Scholarship fund.

The garage sale will offer an assortment of dishes, gadgets, linens, ornaments, kitchen utensils and other items. The silent auction will include a number of speciality items including two needlepoint pillows by Louise Faircloth. The two pillows, "Doves in Flight" and "Roses in Bloom," were judged "Best of Show" for needlepoint work in national competition held in New Orleans.

Another selection for the auction is a framed photograph entitled "Lone Camellia" by Dr. Dudley Davis, well know local floral photographer. Harvey G. Stell, a former student at the college, has donated a primitive painting, "Mountain Sheep," that will be auctioned during the morning. Stell, who studied art under Bethan Windham Engle, recently exhibited his own work at the college. Shelton State instructor Carole Johnson will also offer one of her paintings, "A Profusion of Apples," for the silent auction. Mrs. Johnson also exhibited her own work at the college this spring. A number of local businesses have also donated a number of other items that will be included in the auction. For additional information on the garage sale, contact Marily Terry, 391-2201.
